I understand that you are publishing a guide for incorporating Women's Studies into basic courses on the community college level.

Would you please send a copy to me at the above address.
Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am an adjunct professor in the Department of Student Development at Kingsborough Community College in Brooklyn, New York.

I read an issue (Vol. 15, No. 2 - Fall, 1985) of ON CAMPUS WITH WOMEN and was quite interested in the information. A small article mentions a project undertaken to strengthen women's studies at the City University Community Colleges (NY). The project is funded by the Ford Foundation and coordinated by the Center for the Study of Women and Society.

I would like to know the status of the project and to receive any information that is available at this time.

Hoping to hear from you in the near future, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Estelle Miller (ACSW)
Dept. of Student Development

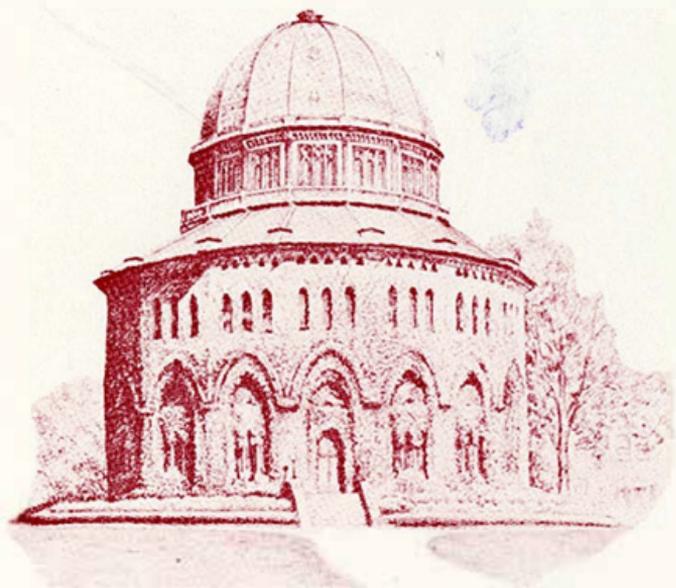

P.S. Please send any information to my home address as listed above.

Dear Director,

As we are struggling at Western with the beginnings of a curriculum balancing project, we read with great interest in On Campus with Women, Fall 85, about your program. Please send us any information, recommendations and results of the evaluation studies you have completed so far.

Many thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs/Madams:

As a teacher of Sociology at Clements High School in Sugar Land, Texas, I am always interested in receiving materials to enhance the teaching process.

It is my understanding that your organization has publications available free of charge or for a nominal fee that could possibly be useful in a Sociology class.

Topics of particular interest are cultures, sociological experiments, socialization, groups, sex roles, marriage and family, social stratification, prejudice and discrimination in any form, collective behavior, social change, and social problems of the 20th century.

If you have any materials that you feel could be useful in teaching about any of these topics, please send them to the above address. Your help is most appreciated!!!

Sincerely,

Cheryl Roesle

Thank you for your interest in our work. We do not have publications per se, although we do intend to publish something for the Community Colleges. I have enclosed a summary of what this will be and would be happy to let you know when it is complete.

Are you familiar with
"Womens Realities, Women's Choices: An Introduction to Women's Studies" by the Hunter College Women's Studies Collective (Oxford U. Press, 1983)? I think you might find it helpful in your teaching.

I have enclosed a newsletter
for your interest.

Dear Dr. Zack;

A few months ago I received from the Center the preliminary report on Community College Gender-Balancing Curriculum Project. The completed report was to be ready in the Spring of 1986.

I would very much like to receive a copy of the completed report, if it is available.

Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Colleague:

I notice in the January 1986 issue of the New York Women's Studies Association Newsletter that you have a guide for incorporating Women's Studies into basic courses on the Community College Level. Thinking that such a guide might be helpful for the four-year college also, I would very much appreciate a copy of the guide, or information on it. Thank you for your help.

Dear Person:

Could you kindly send me [redacted] information (syllabi, outline, proposal, outcome, etc.) on your curriculum balancing project, currently underway to strengthen women's studies at the City University Community Colleges (NY). The project I understand, targets the liberal arts courses and is designed to help CUNY faculty incorporate issues of gender, race, ethnicity and class. Participants are asked to assess the status of women's studies programs at their colleges and are conducting content analyses of the most popular courses.

Thanks.
