

Posted by u/Beautiful_Dogs 1 year ago I'm tired of these professors

I'm tired of these professors saying "oh all of you guys are home so it's no big deal I pile this on, and we have 3 test in the next 3 weeks. You guys are home, you got this." When in reality, I still have a job. Not sure if this may apply to every single person, but I'm sure there's a handful of people with jobs still. I'm a grocery store cashier, under immense stress at work. And these professors just think we're all home.. so why not pile the work on right?

I'm sorry guys I just needed to vent about this. I've been hearing the same thing from every professor I have.

Silverstreak06 1 year ago I feel you man. I'm the head cashier at a home improvement store.

I work 12-14 hour days full of stress and anxiety - then come home to assignments and test that the professor decided to throw at us.

Stay strong, and thanks for working.

Koura10 1 year ago I feel you, I lost my full time job, still don't have the energy to deal with too many assignments. More likely taking Pass grade for professors making it impossible to keep up [deleted] 1 year ago It's true. They think because there's no school that this is a vacation.

- 1. This is mandated. I have to stay home for my safety.
2. It's a fucking pandemic. This isn't a favorable scenario for me. I'd rather be going to school, not fearing what may happen to me or my family.

depressed_aesthetic 1 year ago I get you, but also understand that the pandemic is happening to everyone and that includes your professors. This is their job, and given the circumstances some of them might be doing better than others at teaching, but the reality is that they also have families to worry about, they also have to go out and make lines to buy food, they also have children and other problems. They're also making do with what they were given which is not much. Next semester there a lot of professors will be laid off because of the pandemic and they will lose their health insurance. So please, for many of us this is more than an inconvenience. If you don't work, you don't eat. If you don't work, you don't have health insurance.

americawanted Alumn 1 year ago I'm facing exact opposite situation here. My professor do not communicate at all. My ACC4100 Professor had only one lecture since online learning began, and it lasted for 50 minutes, while the class was supposed to be 4 hours. So basically I had only one 50-minute class last month and Professor "suggested" reading a chapter or two to keep up. My FIN3000 Professor keeps ignoring my messages, while department is doing departmental review for ch.6-7, we are doing something else in class, like ch.11 and I don't even know what's gonna be on the midterm which is in one week. Also professor still assigns stupid problems from one month ago and no HW on new material we cover.. This semester is such a joke.

BenT1156 1 year ago Sorry, I did not take him. But from my experience with other professor, try to understand the problem on connect, every single one. Departmental review does not help much. Need to study hard
